moses maimonides medieval judaism s leading legist and philosopher and a figure of central importance for contemporary jewish self understanding held a view of judaism which maintained the authority of the talmudic rabbis in matters of jewish law while allowing for free and open inquiry in matters of science and philosophy maimonides affirmed not the superiority of the moderns the scholars of his and subsequent generations over the ancients the tannaim and amoraim the rabbis of the mishnah and talmud but the inherent equality of the two the equality presented here is not equality of halakhic authority but equality of ability of essential human characteristics in order to substantiate these claims kellner explores the related idea that maimonides does not adopt the notion of the decline of the generations according to which each succeeding generation or each succeeding epoch is in some significant and religiously relevant sense inferior to preceding generations or epochs
